

The FAO Programme on Globally Important Agricultural Heritage Systems (GIAHS)

Agroforestry systems and sustainability in Africa

1st March 2021 at 5:30 p.m.

Click here to register

Free Webinar

Financed by Italian Agency for Development Cooperation (AICS)

In the frame of the project "Building capacity: international course on GIAHS (Globally Important Agricultural Heritage Systems)"

www.agriculturalheritage.com

5:30 p.m. |

Opening remarks and event moderation

Dr. Edie Mukiibi, Slow Food International Vice - president and Executive committee member,
Slow Food Africa Network Coordinator

5:40 p.m. |

Presentation of the project "Building capacity: international course on GIAHS (Globally Important Agricultural Heritage Systems)"

Prof. Mauro Agnoletti, Coordinator of the "Building capacity" project

5:55 p.m. |

Agroforestry: a perspective from International Cooperation

Dr. Marco Focacci, Italian Agency for Development Cooperation (AICS)

6:10 p.m. |

The role of Traditional Forest Knowledge

Prof. Alfred Oteng-Yeboah, Department of Plant and Environmental Biology, University of Ghana,
Representative of the International Union of Forest Research Organizations (IUFRO)

6:25 p.m. |

GIAHS sites and Slow Food Presidia in North Africa

Dr. Nazarena Lanza, Slow Food Office for Africa & Middle East

6:40 p.m. |

Rif Einkorn Wheat Slow Food Presidium and traditional agroecosystems of Jballas Land

Souhad Azennod, Coordinator of the Rif Einkorn Wheat Presidium and of the Slow Food Jballas Community for Biodiversity

6:55 p.m. |

Questions and Answers

7:25 p.m. |

Conclusions and Closing

Prof. Mauro Agnoletti, Department of Agricultural, Food, Environment and Forestry Sciences and Technologies of the University of Florence

Slow Food®

Event organized in the frame of Terra Madre Salone del Gusto
For more information: click here

In collaboration with

